

BACKGROUND

This two-day event convenes leaders in the green affordable housing industry for education sessions and networking.

On Tuesday, Nov. 16, the Summit will feature six education breakout sessions and project charettes targeted at affordable housing practitioners.

On Wednesday, all participants in the USGBC Affordable Housing Summit can attend the opening plenary. In addition, participants can then attend Greenbuild education sessions or focused affordable housing discussions.

HIGHLIGHTS

The opening session will focus on international trends in affordable housing and feature David Smith, President/CEO of Affordable Housing Institute; Ana Marie Argilagos, HUD Deputy Assistant Secretary; and Jose Moulin Netto, Chairman of Green Building Council Brasil.

Expanded education programming includes sessions on rural housing, data collection, financing, investors, carbon reductions and onsite verifications. Attendees also earn CEU credits for these sessions. Scholarships, funded by Bank of America and the Home Depot Foundation, are available for non-profit staff and public-sector employees to attend the Summit at reduced cost.
